Responsible Citizens, Stronger Nation.

Dear Students, Staff and Parents,

Youth is the strength and hope of every nation. With freedom comes responsibility—the responsibility to respect others, embrace diversity, and work for the common good.

Languages connect people and preserve our rich cultural heritage. By learning and respecting different languages, young people can build understanding, friendship, and harmony across communities.

Let us use our freedom, knowledge, and energy to reject hatred, promote peace, and contribute to the progress of our society.

Be the youth who speaks for peace, stands for unity, and works for a better tomorrow.

Stay Calm, Study Smart – Beat Exam Stress

Examinations are an important part of every student's academic journey, but they should not become a reason for fear or anxiety. As an Academic Coordinator, I encourage students to look at examinations as an opportunity to demonstrate their learning rather than as a measure of their worth. The best way to overcome exam stress is to prepare consistently. Create a simple and realistic study timetable, divide the syllabus into manageable portions, and revise regularly. Avoid last-minute studying, as it often increases pressure and confusion.

A healthy body supports a healthy mind. Students should eat nutritious meals, drink enough water, get adequate sleep, and include some physical activity in their daily routine. Short breaks between study sessions can refresh the mind and improve concentration.

It is equally important to avoid comparing yourself with others. Every learner has a different pace and learning style. Focus on your own progress and appreciate every small improvement. Before and during the examination, take a few deep breaths if you feel nervous. Read the questions carefully, manage your time wisely, and attempt each question with confidence.

Remember, "Exams test your preparation, not your potential." Believe in yourself, stay positive, seek guidance when needed, and give your sincere best.

Learning, Growing & Exploring Together

Dear Students,

Every day in our classroom is a new opportunity to learn, explore and discover something wonderful. Learning is not only about books and worksheets; it is also about asking questions, sharing ideas, making friends and experiencing the world around us.

As the facilitator of BV 3 B, I believe that every child is unique and has something special to share. Through stories, play, creative activities, celebrations, experiments and hands-on experiences, we encourage our little learners to think, express, create and learn with joy.

Our classroom is a place where curiosity is welcomed, mistakes become learning opportunities, and every small achievement is celebrated. Together, we are building confidence, independence, kindness and a love for learning.

Let us continue to make every day meaningful, joyful and memorable as we learn, grow and shine together.

Dear Management, Teachers, and Students,

Watching our daughter, Laxmi Naga Thanvi (PP2), thrive at Akshara Vaagdevi International School has been a deeply fulfilling journey for us as parents. From the moment she steps into school, she is greeted with an environment that feels like a home away from home.

The educators at AVIS do far more than teach; they spark genuine curiosity and foster independence. Over her time in PP2, we have seen Thanvi blossom into a expressive, empathetic, and confident young child. Whether she is sharing what she learned during collaborative activities or enthusiastically practicing new skills at home, her enthusiasm for learning is infectious.

We extend our sincere gratitude to the faculty and management for creating a safe, inspiring space where every child's unique voice is valued. We are truly honored to watch our daughter grow within the AVIS family.

Thank You

Bonalu Celebrations

17th August @AVIS

Akshara Vaagdevi International School celebrated Bonalu with great enthusiasm and cultural spirit. Our young learners came dressed in colourful traditional attire and brought beautifully decorated Bonams, creating a vibrant festive atmosphere.

Through a simple and engaging Bonalu story, the children learnt about the festival's connection with Goddess Mahakali, its tradition of offering Bonam, and the values of gratitude, devotion and respect for cultural heritage. Bonam traditionally refers to a meal offering prepared with rice and other ingredients and placed in a decorated pot.

The celebration included storytelling, traditional music and dance, Bonam display, creative activities and a traditional attire presentation. The children participated with excitement and curiosity, turning the celebration into a meaningful experiential-learning opportunity.

The Bonalu celebration beautifully reflected our commitment to helping children learn about their roots, appreciate traditions and celebrate India's rich cultural diversity..

Growing Together, LearningTogether
Dear Students,

Childhood is a beautiful journey filled with questions, discoveries, friendships, and joyful learning. At Grades 1 & 2, we believe that children learn best when they are given opportunities to explore, experience, and express themselves.

Our classrooms are spaces where little minds can imagine, create, communicate, and learn from one another. Activities such as storytelling, role play, art, games, experiments, and collaborative learning ke learning meaningful and enjoyable.

Our aim is not only to help children become good learners but also to nurture them into kind, confident, responsible, and caring individuals.

Together, let us make every school day a journey of joy, discovery, and growth!

“Our Magical Tribe - Together we shine, Together we grow”

Dear Management, learners and parents,

I really feel proud and happy to share my experience and our child's progress and development since she joined the school in PP2. Looking back, it is wonderful to see how much she has grown—not only academically, but also as a confident, independent, expressive, and responsible child. Over time, we have seen a remarkable change in her confidence and personality. She has become more comfortable interacting with teachers and classmates, expressing her thoughts, asking questions, participating in activities, and taking responsibility for her own work.

Her academic progress has also been encouraging. We particularly appreciate that the focus is not merely on completing the syllabus or memorising information, but on helping the children understand concepts and learn through experiences and activities.

The school's activity-based and child-centric approach has played a significant role in making learning enjoyable for her. Classroom activities, celebrations, projects, competitions, field trips, presentations, and other opportunities have helped her explore her creativity and develop confidence and contributed to her communication skills, teamwork, and overall personality development.

Rakhi Special Assembly

Through drawings, observations, discussions and creative displays, children develop the habit of asking questions and investigating the world around them. They learn that every rock, leaf and handful of soil can reveal a story.

This theme nurtures curiosity, observation, environmental awareness and respect for nature, helping children understand that even the smallest creatures play an important role in our ecosystem.

"Mysterious Under My Feet – Little Explorers Under Their Feet"

"Mysterious Under My Feet" is an exciting exploration of the hidden world beneath the soil. Through observation, curiosity and hands-on activities, children discover that the ground beneath their feet is not simply dirt—it is a lively ecosystem filled with tiny organisms and fascinating life. The theme encourages young learners to dig a little, look closely and wonder more. They explore creatures such as earthworms, ants, nematodes and other tiny soil organisms, while learning how these living things help maintain healthy soil and support plant growth.

Science Experiment – Starch and Iodine Test

Students conducted the Starch and Iodine Experiment to identify the presence of starch in different food materials such as potato, leaves, bread and rice. Two drops of iodine solution were added to each sample. The food materials containing starch immediately turned bluish-black. If there was no colour change, it indicated the absence of starch. The experiment helped students understand how starch can be identified through a simple chemical test.

Discipline and Exam preparation

Discipline and proper preparation are essential for students to perform well in the Half-Yearly Examination. Students should attend school regularly, be punctual, complete their classwork and assignments on time, and follow all school and classroom rules.

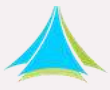

Students are advised to prepare a daily study timetable and follow it consistently. They should revise the syllabus systematically, give special attention to difficult topics, and practice worksheets, sample papers, and important questions regularly. In Mathematics and Science, regular problem-solving and revision of concepts and formulas are especially important.

Students should avoid distractions such as excessive mobile phone use, television, and social media during the preparation period. They should take short breaks, eat healthy meals, get adequate sleep, and maintain a positive attitude.

During the examination, students should read the question paper carefully, manage their time effectively, present answers neatly, and follow all examination instructions. They should remain calm and confident throughout the exam.

With discipline, regular revision, time management, and consistent practice, students can improve their performance and approach the Half-Yearly Examination with confidence. The goal should not only be good marks but also developing responsibility, self-confidence, and good study habits.

August 27 @Avis: The Wellness Sessions for Grades VIII–X focused on effective communication, mental health and wellbeing, digital wellness, healthy boundaries, consent, child protection and resilience. Through interactive discussions, real-life scenarios, role plays and reflective activities, students explored healthy relationships, respectful disagreement, cyber safety, digital footprint, misinformation, online reputation, consent, POCSO awareness, reporting mechanisms, self-regulation, mental health concerns and seeking appropriate support.

The sessions were facilitated by the Wellness Team and Doctors, providing age-appropriate guidance to support students' mental, physical, emotional and overall wellbeing.

Naipunya Inter School Competition

August 29 @Avis: Students of Grades VII and VIII from AVIS enthusiastically participated in the Naipunya Inter-School Competition under the Computer – Digital Green category.

Their innovative ideas and effective use of digital technology showcased their creativity, technical skills, and environmental awareness.

With their dedication and teamwork, the students secured an impressive Third Prize in the inter-school competition.

The achievement reflects their problem-solving abilities, confidence, and commitment to excellence.

AVIS proudly celebrates this accomplishment and congratulates the students for their remarkable performance and achievement.
